Superintendent's Message

It is with Spartan Pride that I welcome you to the 2017-2018 school year! I hope the summer break gave you ample time to rest and enjoy time with family and friends.

I came across an idea that really had a big impact on me. When I think about it and what we are doing at North Schuylkill, along with the goals we are trying to accomplish, I get excited. I'm confident it will be something we will all find helpful and enjoy. It's called, "Cross The Line." It is about commitment and making good things happen.

I want you to think about something simple and something very real as we head into the new school year. Something that is all about making good things happen in the North Schuylkill School District. You see, with everything...there is a line...and a choice.

"Cross The Line" is a message by Sam Parker, the author of two bestselling books – Smile and Move and 212° The Extra Degree. With everything, there is a line. On one side of the line is a greater chance to make good things happen. On the other side, there's less of a chance. And with each line, you have a choice. You want to cross the line or you don't. You want that better chance at making great things happen or you settle with the lesser chance. It is your choice.

Starting the first day of school, let's all start thinking how we can "Cross The Line" in more areas at North Schuylkill. Remember, we're all responsible for ourselves and our results...regardless of the challenges we face...regardless of the obstacles we will run into from time to time.

Let those lines you cross as you come into the buildings or step into the classrooms help you remember to commit to making great things happen for yourself and the North Schuylkill School District. I'm counting on you; let's count on each other with this. It is time to get to work, time to make great things happen for ourselves and the Spartan Community. We will "Cross The Line" and commit to going beyond mediocrity in everything we do!

I encourage everyone to stay connected with the school as we know that your involvement has a positive impact on student learning and social well-being. Follow us on Facebook @North Schuylkill School District and Twitter @NorthSchuylkill. The contents of this newsletter are designed to provide you with information about the District and the coming school year, yet it may not answer all of your questions. We welcome your questions and your input as members of the Spartan Community. If I can personally be of help, please do not hesitate to contact me. I am available to you at (570) 874-0466 or by emailing rackell@northschuylkill.net.

Curriculum and District Updates

Kimberly Groody, Supervisor of Curriculum and Federal Programs

2017-2018 Highlights:

- The following Federal Program Grants have been written over the summer in hopes of being awarded the following funding for each individual narrative and budget summary submitted: Title I - $478,840, Title IIA - $80,429, and Title IV - $10,819.
- We are proud to report that we are again applying for the School Safety Equipment Grant, School Safety Program Grant, School Climate Grant, and School PBIS Grant.
- As far as instructional resources, the ELA curriculum in grades K-5 and the Science curriculum for grades 6-12 will be one of the areas of focus this coming year. There were many meetings held where the team collaborated on goals and discussed resources needed to meet those goals. Trainings for teachers on new textbooks were held last year and will be held again in August. Throughout the 2017-2018 school year, the team will review the next cycle of textbook series upgrades for K-5 Math and 9-12 Social Studies.
- LETRS Training for all ELA teachers in grades K-12 will be provided to support goals.
- As a District, we will focus on measuring standards that are included in our curriculum maps K-12. Assessing the standards will continue to be an area of focus this year, as well as, reviewing our curriculum/instructional strategies, and homework/assessment tools in order to evaluate and improve the achievement of students with different abilities as they work to achieve meeting and exceeding grade level standards.
- We will continue to collaborate with local businesses and college representatives to explore a multitude of career path opportunities in an effort to establish programs that help our students succeed and gain the career skills needed after graduation.

2017-2018 Technology Updates

The North Schuylkill School District is proud to announce a new Digital Creation MakerSpace Lab to be available to all students starting in the 2017-2018 school year. The goal of this new MakerSpace is to provide hands on learning of 21st Century skills. To facilitate the hands on learning, the students in the lab will be able to make projects using Raspberry Pis and Arduinos, and to help foster STEAM (Science Technology, Engineering, Arts, and Math) learning.

Students will also have the opportunity to learn basic programming skills with Lego Robotics, and Sphero programmable robots. 3D printers and scanners will be available for student use to help bring art to life, and to help build models to inspire learning throughout the curriculum.

Having the MakerSpace Lab centrally located in the High School Library will allow us to move our Spartan TV News Studio to the Lab. Along with our newscasts, the Digital Creation Lab will produce content for our new Digital Signs to be placed around the High School to better inform students and staff of upcoming events.

Finally, North Schuylkill is committed to technology now and in the future. We will be adding additional WiFi access points across campus to strengthen our wireless coverage.

The North Schuylkill School District's Special Education Department is committed to the belief that every child can learn. In the spirit of this philosophy, our staff is dedicated to meeting the needs of students with disabilities and helping them reach their fullest potential. A full continuum of services are provided by special education teachers, classroom teachers, speech therapists, occupational therapists, physical therapists, school nurses, social workers, paraprofessional staff, and others with specialized training and expertise. North Schuylkill strives to provide every child a free and appropriate education in their least restrictive environment.

North Schuylkill School District is continually improving these services through staff development and training. We are proud to be continuing our participation in the Department of Education's Autism Initiative in both schools and have made further improvements in our Life Skills Program. The Second Annual Spartan Games, athletic events for students with disabilities, will be held in Spartan Stadium in May. Parent training and outreach programs hosted by the District will be announced throughout the school year on the District's website. We encourage everyone to take advantage of these opportunities.

Gifted Education

Ashley Palubinsky, Asst. Supervisor of Special Education and Gifted Coordinator

The North Schuylkill School District's Gifted Education Program offers educational opportunities designed to meet the exceptional needs, abilities, and interests of our students who are identified and in need of Gifted Education Services. Our District emphasizes the development of the individual. The District strives to provide a system of learning that will offer educational opportunities in accordance with the students' academic strengths, consistent with available resources.

It is recognized that among children who have been identified as being academically gifted it is important to provide a continuum of curriculum services based on the characteristics and needs of the individual. In order to develop an articulated service delivery model the educational services for the gifted students, in the form of enrichment, acceleration, or a combination of both, will be established upon the core curriculum of the District. The professional staff utilizes multiple criteria to identify gifted students in both the elementary and high school settings. It is our goal to challenge all Gifted Students by providing educational programming that meets their academic, intellectual, and specialized talents.

Gifted Parent Advisory Meetings will continue to take place during the 2017-2018 school year. This will offer an opportunity for students to showcase their outstanding work, excellence, and commitment.
